

PSITTACUS ZONARIUS.

CHARACTER GENERICUS.

Rostrum aduncum; mandibula superiore mobili, cera instructa.

Nares in rostri basi.

Lingua carnosae, obtusa, integra.

Pedes scansorii.

Lin. Syst. Nat. p. 139.

CHARACTER SPECIFICUS.

PSITTACUS macrourus viridis, capite remigibusque nigris, torquae nuchali fasciaque abdominali flavis.

De hac specie satis sit notare novam omnino esse nec antea descriptam. In Australasia generatur, magnitudine quasi Psittaci Tabuani.

R. N. D. P. de Selys

THE ZONED PARROT.

GENERIC CHARACTER.

Bill hooked: upper mandible moveable, and furnished with a cere.

Nostrils in the base of the bill.

Tongue fleshy, obtuse, generally entire.

Feet scansorial.

SPECIFIC CHARACTER.

Long-tailed green PARROT, with the head and long wing-feathers black, the collar on the nape and abdominal zone yellow.

Of this species it may be sufficient to observe that it is new and hitherto undescribed. Its size is that of the Tabuan Parrot.